1. PDF24 Tools

A simple but mighty PDF editing site.

- Edit PDFs without expensive Adobe
- Access 28 editing tools (merge, split, etc.)
- Save money, save time

tools.pdf24.org/en/

The screenshot shows the homepage of PDF24 Tools. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for 'All', 'Last used', 'Favorites', and a search bar. Below the navigation is a circular icon featuring a cartoon character. The main area is titled 'PDF24 Tools' and subtitle 'Free and easy-to-use online PDF tools that make you more productive.' A grid of 28 tool icons is displayed in four rows of seven. Each icon includes a small illustration and a star icon. The tools are:

2. Open Library

Search millions of books on Open Library, (available through digital lending).

All it takes to get a ‘library card’?

An email address.

openlibrary.org

3. 12ft Ladder

Want to read an article, but there's a paywall?

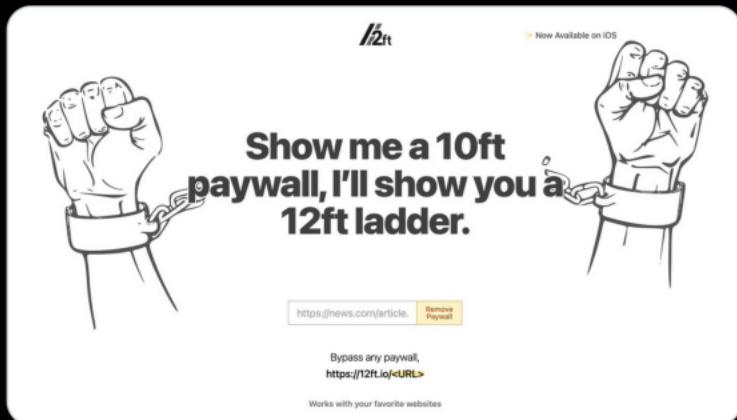

Simply insert the URL into 12ft Ladder.

All sites have a non-paywall version they send to Google for SEO.

12ft finds the cached, un-paywalled version of the page.

Now you're in.

4. Quillbot

A free paraphrasing website (popular among students).

- Input text and hit Rephrase
- Get AI-inspiration on how to rewrite
- Scan text for plagiarism (built-in feature)
- Credit sources

quillbot.com

The screenshot shows the QuillBot website interface. On the left, there's a sidebar with various tools: Paraphraser (selected), Grammar Checker, Plagiarism Checker, Co-Writer, Summarizer, Citation Generator, and QuillBot Premium. Below these are links for Chrome Extension and Word Extension, and contact information for Help Center and Contact Us. The main content area has tabs for Modes (Standard, Fluency, Formal, Simple, Creative, Expand, Shorten) and Synonyms. It includes instructions for rewriting text and a preview of the output. At the bottom, it shows word counts (18 Words, 2 Sentences • 21 Words), a Rephrase button, and a footer with icons for document, download, and print.

6. Otter

Otter is an AI-powered tool that transcribes speech to text (in real-time).

In other words: streamlined meeting notes.

Never forget an essential detail again—

Store and index all your meeting notes in one place.

otter.ai

The image shows the official website for Otter.ai. At the top, it displays two awards: "App of the Day" from the App Store and "Best Daily Helper" from Google Play. Below these, the Otter.ai logo is prominently displayed with the tagline "Capture notes. Share conversations." To the right, there's a screenshot of the app's interface showing a transcription of a "College class lecture". A callout box highlights the "Live" transcription feature. At the bottom, there are several promotional cards: one for "meetings", one for "interviews", and one for "lectures", each featuring a small icon and some descriptive text.
